YEGGMEN BLOW SAFES IN MILROY AND GET AWAY WITH $65 IN CASH

Notes Amounting to $1,200 Also
Missing From J. E. Patton's
Hardware Store

THREE PLACES ENTERED

Robbers Destroy Safe at Meek & Spillman General Store And Steal $30 in Cash

BLOODHOUNDS ON THE WAY

Finding Safe Open, Thieves Spend
Social Hour at Lumber Co.
Smoking And Getting Warm

Yeggmen entered three business houses in Milroy early today, blowing the safes in two of them and making away with approximately sixty-five dollars in cash and $1,200 in notes. In the third place entered the safe was open and contained no money.

Bloodhounds were on the way from Bedford this afternoon to track the thieves. They were expected to reach Milroy about 5:15 o'clock.

The robbers broke into the J. E.
Patton hardware store and stole
from $30 to $35 in cash and $1,200
in notes, into the Meek & Spillman general merchandise store where they obtained about $30 in cash and into the office of the Milroy branch of the Greer-Wilkinson Lumber company.

The safes in the Milroy bank or postoffice were not disturbed, even though the bank is in the building adjoining the Patton hardware store. The Patton store and the Meek & Spillman store are about three squares apart.

Several persons were found in Milroy today who said that they heard the sound of the explosion, but that it was a muffled noise and they thought nothing of it, not even taking the trouble to investigate. It was between one and two o'clock that the sounds of the explosion were heard.

The burglars were festive souls.
Judging from the condition of the office of the Greer-Wilkinson Lumber company, the yeggmen had a little social time either before or after the robbery. It was probably before the safe-blowing because the yeggs would not tarry long after such a job.

Milroy people expressed the belief that the thieves had loafed in the lumber company's office waiting for the time to get "ripe." The safe there was open but the marauders found a box of cigars and helped themselves liberally. Then they apparently built a fire and had a soe-table half hour or so before they started on their escape.

The natural conclusion of Milroy people was that it was the work of amateurs. The chief cause for such an opinion was the fact that the safes in both places were blown to pieces, beyond all repair, and the additional fact that they did not attempt to wreck the bank safe or the one in the postoffice.

The work of the yeggs was very similar to those who made a midnight raid on Carthage about a month ago, breaking into a number of business houses and blowing the safe in the S. W. Newsom store.
The belief was strong that the robbers who visited Milroy belonged to the same gang as those who were at Carthage.

MOTION TO RETAX COST

John Vanatta's Attorney Alleges
They Were Too High

A motion to retax the costs in the case against John Vanatta, recently found guilty of a charge of
"bootlegging" in the circuit court
and fined $100 to which was added 90 days was filed in the circuit court today by John Joyce, Vanatta's attorney. The total costs in the case amount to $64.05. It is alleged in the motion to retax that Mayor Bebout, when the case was tried in police court allowed the jurors fees at the rate of $2.50 a day when this should have been taxed at $1.10. This would make a difference in the costs of $16.80.

TWO REASONS FOR WANTING HESEMAN

Horse And Buggy Greensburg Youth Stole is Recovered Here, Where
he Passed Bad Checks

DISAPPEARS EARLY TODAY

The police were today looking for Ollie Heseman of Greensburg on charges of stealing a horse and buggy and issuing fraudulent checks.
Heseman hired a rig yesterday at the L. L. Cunningham livery stable in Greensburg for the purpose of driving to Sandusky. The rig was found here at the Smalley stable this morning by Mr. Cunningham and all trace of Heseman lost.

While looking for the accused man
the police stumbled on to another crime, the check forging crime.
Heseman secured a room last night at the Roll Richey home and took his meals at the Mrs. Susan Hayes boarding house. This morning he gave Mrs. Richey a check for $4 and Mrs. Hayes one for $2, neither of the checks being good.

Tools And Building, Together With Automobile Belonging to O. D.
Headlee Are Destroyed

ORIGIN IS NOT DETERMINED

The Gowdy blacksmith shop, owned by O. D. Headlee, was completely destroyed by fire late Friday afternoon, entailing a loss estimated at about $500, partially covered by insurance. An old automobile belonging to Mr. Headlee was in the shop at the time and was destroyed.

The origin of the fire will never be determined. It started either from the forge or an old stove with which the shop was heated. The stove was propped up and people visiting the shop have frequently remarked it was likely to cause a fire.

Mr. Headlee was in his home not forty feet away when he discovered the fire, but it had such a good start that it was impossible to stop it with the fire fighting facilities at hand.

Official Edict Goes Forth From Police
That Two Popular Pastimes
Must be Discontinued

TODAY WAS A DAY OF GRACE

Many Complaints Reach Mayor Concerning Minors Playing Boards
And Card Games

Today was the last day for all punch boards and card games in the city as the edict has gone forth from the police department and starting Monday the law, which has heretofore been permitted to drag rather freely, will be strictly enforced.

Mayor Bebout stated today that the order to the police to stop all card games and punch boards came only after numerous complaints. The complaints for the most part were regarding boys and minors being permitted to play the punch boards and also being allowed to play in the various rum games that have been thriving in Rushville.

The police were busy today notifying the proprietors of pool rooms
and cigar stores in which punch board and rum games have flourished that Monday must see the end of them. The order for the most part was obeyed today, but in some instances the one day of grace was taken advantage of and the boards
and games were still in progress.

It was understood that the real source of the complaint against the punch boards and card games came originally from the grand jury room.
This could not be confirmed, but it is understood that in the course of examining witnesses several stated that certain transactions occurred while playing rum. The grand jurors, it is reported, desired to know the nature of this game and the reasons as to why the punch boards and rum games were being allowed to run.

As a result it was decided to call off all the games and punch boards.
The grand jury is said to have received the information regarding punch boards and rum games while delving into an altogether different subject. There is a question as to whether the rum games and punch boards constitute gambling, but to be on the safe side both will be done away with from now on. In the rum games the loser is said to pay a dime and the winner of the game gets the checks. Whether this is gambling in the eyes of the law is not known.

On the punch boards sometime the
"victim" gets something for nothing
and some times he spends his money without getting value received. It is understood that the grand jury was looking to Prosecutor Stevens regarding these games, but in order to give everyone an equal chance the warning was sent out and the matter expected to rest as long as the boards and card games are out of commission.

FORMER MILROY MAN A SUICIDE

Frank Whiting, Age About 40
Years, Kills Himself at Muncie

HAS MANY RELATIVES HERE

Troubles Were Also Partly
Cause For His Act

Frank Whiting, age about forty years, formerly a resident of Milroy, committed suicide at Muncie, his home, late Friday afternoon.

The reason assigned for his act
in Muncie's dispatches is that Whit-inger feared dismissal by the Pennsylvania railroad company because he had allowed driftwood to collect
at a Pennsylvania bridge in Muncie, which was destroyed a few days ago by the city to prevent the lowlands being flooded.

However, it was stated at Milroy today that many who were acquainted with the family declared they believed domestic troubles rather than any fear of dismissal prompted him
to take his life.

Whiting has not lived in Milroy
for fifteen years, but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiting, reside in Milroy and a number of relatives live in southern Rush county and adjoining counties.

It was stated today by those who are familiar with the family that relatives of Whiting have committed suicide. It was said that an uncle of his killed himself about seventeen years ago and that a few years a brother of Whiting's took his life.

In addition to the widow and several children, who resided at Muncie, and his parents, Whiting is survived by the following relatives who live in this vicinity:

Four sisters, Mrs. Morton Campbell of Gowdy; Mrs. W. C. Hasty, of Walker township; Mrs. Doll Jones of Milroy and Mrs. Rex Kemple of Homer; and two brothers, Monroe
Whiting of St. Paul, Ind., and Bert Whiting of Blue Ridge.

STATE TROOPS KEEP ORDER

East Youngstown, O., Jan. 8.—
The strike of 6,500 men in the Republic Iron & Steel company may be settled late today through acceptance by the men of the company's offer to increase wages from nineteen and one-half to twenty-two cents an hour.

Mayor W. H. Cunningham estimated that $1,000,000 damage was done in the nine hours rioting last night by a mob of several thousand strikers of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company and the Republic company.

Practically the entire business district was in ruins. Buildings that were not razed by incendiary fires were looted and wrecked by the mob.
The fourteen saloons were destroyed.

Terror held the 10,000 residents of this city in its grip today. Residents this afternoon feared a clash between the strikers and state troops sent here to restore order. Many persons have fled to Youngstown.

Samuel L. Trabue of this city, Democratic county chairman, to cause him to become a candidate have reached here from Richmond since John M. Lontz of Richmond refuses to run.

Mr. Trabue is very popular not only in Rushville, but also among Democrats of the district with whom he is widely acquainted. The Richmond Item said Wayne county Democrats favored Mr. Trabue since Lontz turned them down.

When interviewed this morning Mr.
Trabue said he had not yet seen the article in the Richmond Item favoring him as a candidate for congress, but did not seem displeased at the friendly feeling for him, evidenced
by Wayne county Democrats. He admitted that he had been urged by prominent Democrats from every county in the district to permit his name to go before the coming primary, but for business reasons had not yet consented to do so.

Indictments Which Charge Specific
Sales Were Made.

DATES AND NAMES ARE GIVEN

Wolter is Accused of Selling Beer to Harvey Clark and Milton Wainscott October 24.

RECENTLY SERVED SENTENCE

Given Minimum on Promise he Would Not Violate Law Again—Charge
Pending Against Sharp.

Liquor law violations in three indictments each were returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon against Eddie H. Wolter, who has served one term for "bootlegging" and Luther C. Sharp, proprietor of a meat shop in West Second street,
who was recently arrested on a similar charge in police court.

The arrests on the wholesale indictments were made this morning and both men were released on $500
bond in each of the cases against them. Hyman Schatz is on the bond of Wolter and Will Mulno and W. C.
Smith are on the bond of Sharp.
The indictments came after a week of investigating by the grand jury.

One indictment against Wolter is
for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor on Sunday, a specific sale being alleged in the true bill. It is alleged in this indictment that he sold three glasses of beer to Harvey Clark for fifteen cents. This transaction, it is charged, took place on Sunday, October 24, 1915.

The second indictment against Wolter charges that on October 24
he sold six glasses of beer to Milton Waincott for thirty cents. The last of the three, charges him with selling without a license and charges that on the same date he sold Harvey Clark liquor in less than five gallon lots at a time and names the amount of three drinks for which Clark paid the sum of fifteen cents.

The indictments against Sharp are similar. The first charges him with operating a place where intoxicating liquors were kept and sold. This indictment is drawn under the statute providing for "blind tigers" and under which the state has met with greatest success as far as convictions are concerned.

The second indictment charges
him with unlawful sale on Sunday and the third charge is that he sold Milton Waincott six glasses of beer for the sum of thirty cents, the sale being alleged to have taken place on Sunday, October 24, 1915.

The Waincott mentioned in the indictments is the same Waincott against whom there is a charge of "bootlegging" pending in police court. He is waiting in jail for a trial. It will be recalled that the police raided the Waincott home on Christmas eve and obtained seven quarts of whiskey. Waincott was supposed to know more about the illegal sale of liquor than he would tell, and on the following day a raid took place at the Sharp meat market.

It is believed that the six indictments against Wolter and Sharp are
in some way connected with the arrest and holding of Waincott. The surprising thing about the indictments is that the intoxicating liquor mentioned in the charges is named as beer and that it was bought by the drink. A keg party is intimated by close examination of the charges.

Stammerers Can Regain Perfect Speech

STAMMERING can be stopped, permanently. Perfect speech is being restored to stammerers day after day and week after week at the Bogue Institute for Stammerers. There was a time when stammering was regarded as a mysterious affliction from which the stammerer could not escape. But, study and experience have discovered the causes of stammering—and when the causes became known there was a natural way to overcome them. And, when the cause of stammering is eliminated, stammering must stop—and perfect speech is restored.

Stammering is a handicap that stands between every man and business success. It stands between every woman and the place she should take in society. It is a grim, forbidding wall that shuts every afflicted person out from most that is worth while in life.

The Bogue method of stopping stammering is based on the personal experience of Benjamin N. Bogue, president and founder of the Bogue Institute, who freed himself from stammering after having been afflicted for twenty years. Mr. Bogue knows the struggle made by every stammerer in the effort to regain perfect speech—for he has experienced it himself.

Beginning on page five of the seventy-page free book offered you below, you will find the story of Mr. Bogue's experiences—how he suffered as a stammerer and how he regained perfect speech. Begin on page sixteen and read in detail of the causes of stammering. The book includes a straightforward statement showing how thoroughly your interests would be protected as a student at the Bogue Institute. It explains, also, why persons, under eight years of age, and those not of normal intelligence, are not accepted as students at the Institute.

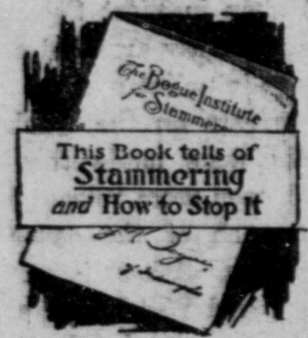

In addition you will be interested in the statements of many students who have been restored to perfect speech. This book will be sent to you free if you will write your name and address on the coupon below and mail the coupon in an envelope to the Institute. Get this interesting book at once.

WEEK OF PRAYER SERVICES OVER

God's Use of Men And Means in Bible Days Applied to Present Time by Rev. W. M. Whitsitt

Special Union Meetings This Week Will Culminate in Church Attendance Day on Sunday

God's use of men and means to extend His kingdom in Biblical days likened to present day methods was the substance of the sermon at the closing week of prayer services at the Main Street Christian church Friday night. The sermon was preached by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt of St. Paul's M. E. church.

The week of prayer services, which have been held each night this week, will culminate in Church Attendance Day Sunday when an earnest effort will be made by all of the congregations of the city, both Protestant and Catholic, to get every person in Rushville to attend some service.

The Rev. Mr. Whitsitt chose his text from the tenth chapter of Acts. He asserted that God is doing today just what he did as chronicled in Acts, when he called Peter to go into Caesarea to the home of a Gentile, Cornelius, and preach the word of God.

"Prayer is the means by which men are brought to God," said the minister, "And also the means by which God is brought to men. Probably the latter should be emphasized because more frequently God is brought to men. The Bible is full of instances of prayer. It is a book of prayer. Here's a man, in this story, groping after God, praying and using all the light he had. As he prayed the angel came and directed him.

"Here's the other man (Peter) praying. God hears him and answers his prayers. God is answering prayers as much now as he did then. And praying is not an easy thing by any means. God prayed until he sweat blood. And others will have to sweat blood before this old world is brought to Christ."

The minister said the text also suggested the thought not only of men being brought to God by prayer, but of God's use of men, sometimes sinful men. Peter and Cornelius had nothing in common, he said yet they did not live so far apart although the means of travel then was slow. But God was working on these two men at different ends of the line, the minister asserted, and He is using men just the same today as then.

"When Peter went to Cornelius, he had a message," continued the pastor, "God still has a message. Here's God's use of means and men. It is a peculiar thing, too, that Peter went over to Caesarea and found the congregation ready and waiting. They were not filled with the things of the world. They were in a receptive frame of mind. It was unlawful for the Jews to associate with the Gentiles, but Peter said God was leading him and he was going. Peter was accompanied by a committee to see that he was orthodox. The Holy Ghost fell upon the people to whom Peter preached and the committee admitted that it had never seen anything like it before. Peter was taken before the committee in Jerusalem and accused of doing wrong, of overstepping his bounds. He told the committee a plain story of what happened and they did not interfere. God had a time getting Peter out of his bounds.

"There is also the thought of God establishing His church. Peter saw the people of Caesarea should be taken into the church and he established one. Why not modernize this tenth chapter of Acts, and use it in our own church? Let us give our means and ourselves to bring about the things Peter did."

MERCHANTS BUSY TAKING INVOICE

Inventory of Stock Entails Vast Amount of Work But it is Annual Task That is Necessary

JANUARY SALES TO FOLLOW

Since Income Tax, Dealers Who Formerly Took Invoice in February Change Their Methods

This is a busy season with the majority of the local merchants and dealers who are taking the annual inventory of their stock. Many of the stores close their fiscal year during the latter part of December so that stock can be taken before the first of the year. Others begin invoicing shortly after January 1.

Invoicing in some of the stores entails a vast amount of work. Especially is this true in dry goods and clothing stores and in other lines where there are a large number of articles to be taken. Some of the dealers employ additional help for this purpose and complete the work in one day or even less time and prepare their statements later. The inventories are usually taken after the holidays season as the stocks are lower than at any other time of the year.

Since the new income tax law went into effect some of the dealers who formerly took stock in February have changed their fiscal years so it will close with the calendar year. By doing so they are saved the trouble of making an additional statement to the internal revenue collector and the income tax blanks can be filled out from figures given by their invoicing sheets. The income tax law provides that when the fiscal year of any corporation closes later than the calendar year the report to the internal revenue office must show the business that is done after the close of the calendar year and the time the report is filed.

The invoicing season is usually followed by inventory sales and some splendid bargains are offered at that time. The prices are reduced as many lines are broken and the merchants desire to dispose of the "odds and ends" in order to make room for the big stocks which will soon arrive. The spring lines are already purchased and before many days the first shipments will be received. The public knows why the special prices are placed on goods following the inventory season and have become accustomed to look for the annual advertisements announcing the date of the sales and the varieties that will be offered at bargain prices.

The beginning of the fiscal year is an important time for most firms. It is then that they outline their plans for the coming year. In case of corporations it is the time when the annual reports are made concerning the business for the past year and the future plans of the firm are discussed while the stockholders are together.

All that savors of the worldly is barred, George Hiedelman, 71, head of the community, said today a boy who played baseball on Sunday was punished by being kept away from church for two weeks.

No Longer a Joke

Grippe has long ceased to be a joke. It is estimated that at least half the population of Rush county is afflicted, either slightly or seriously, with the common malady—so common in fact that folks seldom ever take stock of it until it has them on the flat of their back.

The fact of the matter is people do not take the grippe seriously enough. It has always been regarded lightly. We have been reading for weeks reams and reams of advice from state and national health officers. They tell us how to avoid the grippe. Undue exposure probably brings on more cases than any other one thing.

While very seldom fatal, the grippe frequently brings on some other disorder that is serious and may cause death. Grippe often is the aftermath of a bad cold. Bad colds can frequently be checked if the common practice of "wearing them out" is not relied on too fully. The best measure of success in breaking up a cold is found from consulting a physician.

People with colds can not be too careful in their daily touching of elbows with their neighbors not to help spread the disease to others. Too frequently they cough and sneeze in the presence of others without attempting to prevent the dissemination of millions of little germs which may find happy lodgment in fertile soil and cause the illness of a friend. It is well to keep your weather eye out for the grippe for it has proved this winter that it is no longer a joke.

Henry Ford has an automobile factory in Detroit. He has another across the river in Canada. It is not the river that prevents his selling his "Made in America" machines in Canada—it is a high tariff wall.

So the Ford company took its capital and invested in a Canadian factory, giving employment to Canadian labor, furnishing business for Canadian merchants, placing money in Canadian banks and paying taxes to the Canadian government. Canada is wise. So will the American people be wise when they reconstruct the demolished tariff wall which will keep European and Asiatic products out of American markets and thus rebuild and protect American industries.

HOOSIER HISTORY

"SONS OF LIBERTY"

The vigilance of government officials, aided by detectives and renegades, soon disclosed the secrets of the American Knights, implicating prominent men. Another organization, therefore, followed, the most thorough going of all, known as the "Sons of Liberty." The fact that Vallandigham was elected Supreme Commander at the Grand Council held in New York attested the animus and aims of this order.

New Jersey Legislature, Opening

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 8.—The 140th legislature will convene Jan. 11 for a session which promises to be fraught with bitter party and factional strife. The reason for this forecast is that New Jersey, with its Republican legislature, Democratic governor and Democratic other state officials, next fall will vote for President, U. S. Senator and Governor. And this is Wilson's home state. It may develop into the biggest fight in the history of this compact little commonwealth. The Democrats in the State Senate and House of Assembly will strive to enhance the fortunes of their party to the end that President Wilson may roll up a big majority in his home state; while the G. O. P. representatives will maneuver to have the advantage in the coming contest before the people. In the State Senate the Republican majority will be 5, there being 13 of them to 8 Democrats. The House will have 40 Republicans to 20 Democrats and the majority on joint ballot will be 25, thus insuring the election of a Republican State Treasurer to succeed the Democratic incumbent, Sate Chairman Grosscup.

One America for All; All Americas for One

Secretary of State Lansing in welcoming the Delegates of the Pan-American Scientific Congress at Washington sounded the key-note of what may become the greatest alliance in the world, when he stated that "The American family of nations might well take for its motto that of Dumas' famous musketeers, 'One for all, all for one.'"

In this week's LITERARY DIGEST (January 8th) the leading article depicts American newspaper opinion on the recent "get-together Conference" of the big American family of nations.

Closely following this article in interest, if not equaling it, is a comprehensive description of the Naval Increase Programs which are before the Congress and a summary of editorial opinion regarding them. This article is accompanied by a table which shows in detail the difference in the Navy Board's July report, the Navy Board's October report, and Secretary Daniel's program.

Other features of unusual interest in THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 8th are these:

There is no other weekly magazine with which THE LITERARY DIGEST can justly be compared. It is in a class by itself—the only weekly news-magazine which does not burden its readers with its own personal editorial convictions. Its policy, rather, is to present public opinion as reflected in the representative newspapers, magazines, and periodicals throughout the world, upon all important subjects, and illustrated by the best cartoons and photographs. This is done without prejudice or partisan bias. And because world-news is a record of the thought and action of living people, so THE LITERARY DIGEST is the most interesting magazine published. Many hundreds of thousands of men and women have come to depend upon it for an exact focus upon all matters that affect humanity everywhere—War, Science, Politics, Invention, Literature, Art, Religion, Industry, Sports, and Drama.

THREE ECLIPSES TO BE SEEN IN 1916

There Will be Two of The Moon And One of The Sun, First One Falling on January 20.

ALL WILL BE VISIBLE HERE

There will be five eclipses during the coming year but only three of them will be visible in this country.

A partial eclipse of the moon is scheduled for January 20. This eclipse will be visible here, the moon entering the shadow at 2:10 o'clock, reaching its height at 2:54 o'clock and leaving the shadow at 3:39 o'clock.

There is to be a total eclipse of the sun on February 3, which is an unfortunate date. If it could have been moved up a trifle and scheduled for groundhog day there would have been less likelihood of the groundhog seeing his shadow. The February 3 eclipse begins here at 9:17 o'clock and ends at 11:11 o'clock. A partial eclipse of the moon is scheduled for July 14 and 15. It begins here at 9:34 o'clock, is greatest at 11:01 o'clock and leaves the shadow at 12:27 o'clock on the morning of July 15.

An annular eclipse of the sun, on July 30 and a partial eclipse of the sun on December 24, will not be visible here.

THIRD ONE WAS DISMISSED

Divorce suit was observed in circuit court this morning. One was granted and one was refused. Bennie Jordan was granted a divorce from Mary Jordan upon payment of the costs. He testified that she abandoned him without cause. Mrs. Jordan was his second wife and was at least twenty years his senior.

Leora Clevenger was refused a divorce from Ira Clevenger. Judge Sparks was not satisfied that she deserved a divorce and decided that it was about six of one and a half dozen of the other. Clevenger testified that she was intimate with other men and related certain instances. She alleged cruel and inhuman treatment.

The divorce suit of Sarah Cadle against Clyde Cadle was stricken from the docket because of a lack of prosecution. The defendant had previously defaulted and the plaintiff was to deposit $5 for the state. This was ordered done on May 26, 1915, but no deposit was made.

Downs Shelbyville in Hard Fought And Exciting Game by Score of 28 to 21

FIRST HALF ENDED 9 TO 8

Locals Put up Great Offensive And Defensive Game And Maintained Edge Throughout

Rushville had the edge on Shelbyville last night and by maintaining a small lead throughout the second half managed to win a well earned victory by a score of 28 to 21. The game was the most exciting played here in several years and was witnessed by a large crowd. The local team slightly outplayed Shelbyville both on defensive and offensive, but the game was so close that it was not decided until the final whistle.

If Shelbyville expected the Rushville team to "crack" under the tension of so close a game a big disappointment was in store because Rushville instead of "breaking" played all the harder and towards the end of the game the team was going even better than at the start.

Rushville did not wait for Shelbyville to carry the fight to them but started in from the first whistle and took the offensive. The first half ended 9 to 8 in favor of Rushville and then the real fight started. There was only one time during the entire game that Shelbyville was ahead and that was early in the first half. A field goal by McKay gave his team a two point lead with the score standing 6 to 4. This was soon overcome.

Both teams put up a sterling exhibition of guarding and while the game was rough it was not overly so and fouls were not very many. So close was the guarding that the score was kept down, especially in the first half. In passing Rushville excelled the Shelbyville team. Shelbyville was unable to solve the short pass used by Rushville and the scoring alternated between Stoops and Martin.

In the second half Rushville maintained a one or two point lead throughout. With six minutes to play the score stood 20 to 18 in Rushville's favor. At this point the excitement was great and it has been many seasons since as much spirit and enthusiasm was shown. A long field goal by Stoops seemed to put more pep in the locals and while holding Shelbyville his team mates succeeded in running the score from twenty points to a total of twenty-eight.

For some unknown reason the game was late in getting started. It was almost nine o'clock before play was called and despite the fact that the large crowd became restless it was amply repaid for remaining until the finish. The game was advertised for eight o'clock.

There were no individual stars on the Rushville team as the guards deserve as much credit for the victory as the forwards. Hardin, the Shelbyville center, around whom the team is built and who is a terror to most teams was closely guarded and while he got away several times the work of the guards told in the end, and brute strength alone was of no avail to him in this game.

Rushville (28)	Shelbyville (21)
Position	McKay
Stoops	Forward
Caron, Dye	Forward
Martin	Center
Frazier, Pope	Guard
Reed	Guard

Field goals—Stoops (5), Martin, (5), Caron, (1), McKay, (2), Higgins, (2), Hardin, (4), Hall (1).
Foul goals—Stoops, (6), Hardin, (3).

VALPARAISO IS GOING AFTER TITLE

HAS WON MOST OF ITS GAMES

(By United Press.) Valparaiso, Jan. 8.—The Valparaiso high school basketball team, which plays East Chicago has its eyes set on the Gary sectional tournament March 10 and intends to win. Then the Valpo boys will journey down to Bloomington and show the down-staters how to shoot baskets—that is, if local dope is correct.

Hammond writers have been generous enough to concede that the Jess Willards of the Valpo team have it on anything in the steel circuit. They predict that Valpo will win tonight.

Valparaiso has beaten East Chicago, Whiting, Froebel (Gary), and these teams have beaten most of the contenders in this district.

BLIND TEAM IS REAL SENSATION

Basketball Five From Ohio State School For Blind Said to be a Wonder

WON LARGE PERCENT OF GAME

(By United Press.) Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—Columbus has a basketball team that literally, can shoot baskets with its eyes shut! Fans who've seen the boys in action say they're wonders. The little squad of sightless lads wears the colors of the Ohio State School for the Blind. There's Joe Arnot of Lima, Ohio, whirlwind forward; Joe's left eye has only 3-200 normal vision and his right eye 5-200 normal vision. Yet Joe, in three games he's played this season has averaged 15½ baskets a game. B. McQueen, captain and center, has a cataract on his right eye is 1-25 normal. But he has a weird, uncanny sense of where the basket is and sticks 'em in the pan, one, two, three.

There isn't a man on the squad who can read even poster print. Totally blind students are the team's backers. They can tell when a basket is made and their rooting would shame a college bunch. Are they winners? The squad has secured 205 points thus far this season to its opponents 68!

FAIRVIEW WON

The Fairview Athletic club basketball team defeated the Orange Independents last night on the Orange floor by a score of 31 to 12. The game was fast and exciting in the first half but Fairview pulled away in the final period. Fairview would like to book some games. G. F. Powers, Fairmouth is the manager.

TIGERS WON

The Rushville Tigers won from New Salem last night in a rough game by a score of 32 to 12. The Tigers have lost but one game this season and ready to book games with the surrounding towns. Arthur Pulliam, 810 West Third street is the manager.

PRICE IS HIGH

(By United Press.) Anderson, Jan. 8.—With the rabbit season closing on January 10—just two short days away—Madison county hunters were busy today trying to make a dent in the shortage that has prevailed. The toothsome delicacy has been selling at thirty-five cents here. This price, which was the highest in years, later gave way to 25 cents. Rains of last summer are said to have been responsible.

INDIANA THEFT RECALLED

Believed Same Gang Stole $15,000 Worth at Evansville

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 7.—Officials of the internal revenue department at the federal building expressed the belief today that the robbers at St. Paul belong to the same gang which robbed the stamp deputy of Evansville of stamps worth $15,000 recently. They said they believed federal agents would soon round up the gang. The loot stolen at Evansville has not been recovered.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

Here is a riddle I ask you to read;

This is the answer—a Pillow of

New York, Jan. 7.—Call it pillow
or cushion, as you will; by any name it costs as much. Such a work of art, however, has it become that it almost seems worth it. A cushion is indeed comfy to have around one and a round one is the pink of perfection, especially when it is made of rose pink taffeta shirred on cords
and caught together in the center with a cluster of French ribbon roses. A robin egg blue one with a bunch of gold fruit in the middle is also alluring, but not a round robin.

A heart of gold is a heart shaped,
yellow velvet cushion with edging of narrow brown fur banding and then,
four fluffy chiffon ruffles, jaunty and jaundiced. An oblong pillow of sealskin, with deep ruffles of ecru laces
at each end, caught with garlands of tiny French flowers, is something nifty for a well rounded patrician elbow to rest upon, but it's not for a red rasped crazybone of the hoi polloi. An oblong of black velvet with a wide, plain banding of silver gauze, four cornered, with silver tassels, makes a striking background for a glodenhead. Sort of a transfusion of metals. Wonderful and bewilderingly exotic and Oriental are the bolster cushions made of bands of galloon, Chinese embroidery, velvet, fur, and beidwork. Because of their shape they are aptly dubbed Sausage Rolls. So divers and piquant are the many materials used to make up their perfect wholes

Lots of Ginger

Among the Indianapolis newspaper men who were present at the Republican love feast was George W.
Stout, the man who wrote the Progressive news after the 1912 unpleasantness. Mr. Stout is now the writer of the Indiana Daily Times editorials, and his views will be interesting to many readers. Regarding the love feast, under the title of "Republican Ginger," Mr. Stout says:

"It is no wonder Indiana Republicans in the last two years have attracted nation-wide attention to their methods and to their unusual achievements along organization lines. It is not at all remarkable that we hear from other states the suggestion, often repeated, that the Indiana state chairman, who has brought about the Hoosier Republican rejuvenation ought to be the Republican national chairman for the crucial campaign of 1916. Will H.
Hays of Sullivan, the popular organization leader of Indiana, is being heralded abroad as a coming nation-
fame is due to hard and effective
work and to the fact he has got results in Indiana against tremendous odds.

"Under the present Indiana Republican organization energetic efficiency, resourcefulness and applied common sense have accomplished spirit of the organization has been come very definite results. The extended to the precincts and as one effect it has been notably easy to organize Republican meetings of a size and noise exceedingly ominous position. Republicans say that the when viewed by the on-looking op-remarkable series of meetings culminating today in the annual statewide love feast in this city simply goes to show that Indiana Republicans are to be reckoned with next year. While the meetings and love feast have shown Republicans to be formidable in their rallying powers,
been little indication of overconfi-dence.

orado strike, were dismissed today
by U. S. district attorney H. B.
Tedrow. The indictments alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust

Obsolete Trade Names.

Some obsolete names of trades survive as surnames—e. g., Webster, Lister, Walker. In the fourteenth century the weaver was known as "the webster," the dyer was "the lyster"
and the workman who trod the cloth in the dye vat was "the walker." The arkwright made the arks or chests
in which clothes or meal were stored,
and the smith was frequently dubbed
"the faber," this later being one of the rare cases in which the Latin translation of a craft has become a common surname. When the cottler had forged an edged tool the blower finished it off or put the bloom on;
the chapman traveled with goods from door to door and the coke baked cakes and sold them.—London Tatler.

The Pace.

The rhinoceros surveyed the world complacently. "After all, I set the pace in a manner of speaking," quoth he.

Whereat the other beasts burst out laughing.
"Well, it's a fact," the rhinoceros insisted. "Tell me, please, where would civilization be if it were not for men with hides like mine?"—Boston Journal.

Two Rivers.

One of the most sharply defined wa-
Minnesota-South Dakota boundary.
From Lake Traverse the Red River of the North flows to the arctic, while from Big Stone lake, immediately adjacent, the Minnesota river finds its way into the Mississippi.—Argonaut.

A Mean Retort.

Bertha—I'm sorry you asked me to marry you. It pains me to refuse.
Will (cheerfully)—Oh, don't worry!
Perhaps you know best what I'm escaping.

Trained.

Knicker—A very obedient child.
Bocker—No wonder; his father is a traffic cop and his mother is a cook.
—New York Sun.

He has no hope who never had a fear.—William Cowper.

Colossal Taxation Will Follow War To Pay Great Debt Of All Nations

By J. W. T. MASON

(Written for United Press.)

New York, Jan. 8.—At the close of 1915 the war has cost more than twenty-six billion dollars, exceeding by five hundred million the total national debts of the six principal belligerent powers when the conflict began. With the exception of about five million raised in the United Kingdom by taxation, practically all the expenses of the war have been met by borrowed money. The end of 1915 therefore, finds the fighting nations saddled with double the debt they had accumulated in all the centuries preceding the outbreak of the war.

In the early days of the war the most liberal estimate of its cost, including the destruction of property and the economic losses caused by casualties, was fifty million dollars per day. The actual expense now, exclusive of economic and property losses, is eighty-five million per day. Of this amount the Quadruple Entente is paying two-thirds and the Teutonic Allies one-third. If the war continues through the winter the cost will probably rise to a hundred million per day. The interest for war loans which the war has already imposed on Europe's future generation is about a billion, two hundred million per year. Every week the war lasts fixes an additional annual interest burden on the belligerents of twenty-five million.

Colossal taxation will have to be imposed on the soldiers when they return home after peace is declared. The belligerents will be bowed beneath the burdens of the war debts. The Germans for a time this year believed it might be possible for them to evade their cost of the conflict by compelling the Quadruple Entente powers to pay a full indemnity. Dr. Helfferich, the German Minister of Finance, made this statement in the Reichstag last August. But as the year's fighting continued with constantly increasing expenditures, the German government changed its mind about the possibility of any belligerent being able to escape from the financial net. Dr. Helfferich therefore, announced a fortnight ago that although Germany might collect an indemnity, yet the war would impose "a colossal burden" of new taxes on the Germans.

During the year, various British statesmen uttered warnings concerning the financial outlook. And the possibility of bankruptcy overtaking Europe has several times been mentioned in the House of Lords. All the belligerent governments have become uneasy about the monetary outlook, but the system of running the war on borrowed money has prevented the people themselves from feeling the financial pinch, except in Great Britain. The British government is now raising about five hundred million per year for war costs by direct taxation; but no other nation has as yet seriously increased its peace taxes. The British tax large as it is, does no more than meet the interest on the government's war borrowings.

The war has compelled the rapid expenditure of such unprecedented sums of money that its difficult to believe the warring governments will continue the strain for another year unless one side or the other sees the possibility of a complete victory. No decisive success for anybody is now in sight. Even if either group of belligerents has the power to force the other into bankruptcy, it is not probable that power will be applied. The injury which would be done to the most robust of the warring nations would not justify the infliction of a condition of insolvency upon the enemy.

France is leading the other nations in taking preliminary steps to recover from the financial blight of the war. The northern area of France now in the enemy's possession is one of Europe's most important manufacturing centers. The factories will have to be rebuilt and new machinery must be installed, after peace is declared. A French commission is now in the United States studying American labor saving devices and American methods of production. Factory output in the United States is between 2 and 3 times as much per man as it is in Europe. If, after the war, France can adapt herself to American methods, and French factories will at least double their productivity and France will be able to care for her war debts and grow richer at the same time. If Europe at large is to make a speedy recovery from the war's distress, the example of France must be followed by all the countries alike. On Europe's ability to copy American industrial methods therefore, depends the effect of the financial burdens which the war is fastening on the backs of the taxpayers.

Prosperity is written in letters of gold across this country's financial record in 1915. Uncle Sam has almost half a billion dollars more of foreign gold than he had a year ago. American merchants have sold more goods abroad than ever before. The greatest external loan in history, the Anglo-French loan, was floated in 1915. The market value of American securities appreciated something like two billion dollars in the 12 months. National banks have bigger deposits and larger reserves than at any time since this country was founded. A wave of speculation swept the country and permitted the New York Stock Exchange to close 1915 with a boom as explosively right as the year's beginning was dull. Unsmirched by the failure of a single member, the 1915 record of the New York exchange is crowded with stories of newly made millionaires and sprinkled with fifty-million-share trading days.

More than 160,000,000 shares of stocks were traded in during the year, representing an aggregate value of more than fourteen billion dollars; and nearly nine hundred millions worth of bonds. In 1914, only 48,031,833 shares changed hands, representing less than four billion dollars; and the bond business was only $440,438,600. The war caused the stock exchange to close four months in 1914, which partly explains the comparatively small business. From the dark, uncertain days of early January, 1915, with minimum prices and other war restrictions, business in the world's biggest stock market gradually developed until million share trading days became almost common. There were fifty of these million share days in 1915, only two in 1914, none in 1913 and 11 in 1911. There were fifty in 1909. In January, 1915, only about four million shares were dealt in; in October almost thirty million shares changed hands. Many days in the latter part of the year were almost million share days; that is, when business ran well over nine hundred thousand shares. Minimum prices were abolished April 1 and from then on the market boomed.

The war babies and war bride stocks of companies manufacturing war supplies for the belligerent countries furnished more spectacular fireworks in 1915 than Wall street had witnessed since 1901, when J. J. Hill and E. H. Harriman sent the market into convulsions by their fight to buy control of the Northern Pacific railroad in the open market. Bethlehem Steel's unrivaled jump from 42 to $600 a share, closely trailed by General Motors' advance from $86 to $540 and U. S. Steel's rise of 31 points are a few of the high spots in the year's boom market.

Fifteen stocks, including motor, electric, steel and equipment and industrial securities, appreciated just $570,665,628 in the year. The aggregate appreciation of all stock and bonds on the New York exchange is near $2,000,000,000. U. S. Steel increased a hundred and fifty-five million in value and Bethlehem Steel, about $85,000,000. The steel corporation has more than five million shares of common stock issued while Bethlehem steel has less than 150,000 shares outstanding. General Motors common increased $75,000,000 in value; General Electric, $36,534,000; Anaconda Copper, $69,937,500; Studebaker, $36,590,396; Willys-Overland, $30,800,000; American Can, $14,960,000 and Crucible Steel, $14,747,000.

What the war orders received by these automobile and equipment companies total never has been disclosed, but they run high into the hundreds of millions. A company whose stock is selling on the New York curb market, Submarine Boat, received over $125,000,000 of European war orders. What the figures are for orders placed with Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse, Crucible Steel and the Steel corporation can only be conjectured. In proportion to its size and importance the New York curb had one of its best years. War stocks in the outside market gave half a dozen curb traders profit enough to purchase seats on the Big Board—the Exchange. The price of a seat on the Big Board has practically doubled in the last year. Early in April the price for a membership on the Exchange was $38,000. In December a seat sold for $72,000.

One of the most important events in the financial history of 1915 was the great Anglo-French half-billion dollar loan. In the middle of the year a Commission of English and French financiers headed by Lord Reading, Lord Chief Justice of England, came to this country to raise war funds. A committee of prominent American bankers was formed, dominated by J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents for the Allies in the United States, and after many conferences the amount and terms of the big war loan were fixed. It was for $500,000,000 with interest at 5 per cent a year, to be sold to the public at 98, which gave almost 6 per cent of a return to the investor. After the details were arranged, a syndicate of American bankers was formed which agreed to hold its bonds from the public market for 60 days. On Dec. 15, this syndicate expired and the bonds, having been publicly listed on the New York Stock exchange, were publicly traded in. They went as low as 94 1/8, but were bought at their low price meant even a higher interest than 5 per cent. Less than $200,000,000 of the half-billion loan was put on the open market, bankers and bond houses which were members of the syndicate, withdrawing over $300,000,000 of the entire issue.

Financiers who have watched the remarkable course of events in the last year, predict that 1916 will see even greater expansion in both the financial and industrial life of this country.

Obituary.

Daniel Paulus, one of the pioneer citizens of Rush county and the oldest child of Charles and Daniel Paulus and Caroline Hanser was born in Baden-Baden, Germany, March 14, 1825. He was baptized in infancy and at the age of twelve made his first communion and was confirmed in the Lutheran church. His mother, being a very devout woman insisted upon the family's regular attendance at church services.

Hearing of the wonderful opportunities the United States presented, his parents decided to bring his family of four boys and two girls to America. They took leave of their native land April 10, 1845 and landed in New York the latter part of May. They settled in Cincinnati and lived there until after his mother's death which occurred during the epidemic of cholera in 1849. Besides the mother, a small sister and infant brother succumbed to the disease in forty-eight hours. After this his sister Caroline kept their home for a short time and the family dispersed. His brothers John and Charles and sister took up their residence in New Orleans, Lewis in San Francisco and he and his father engaged in business in Greensburg, Ind. He moved to Rush county in 1854 and bought the farm on which he lived in 1858.

His principal occupation was buying and selling live stock which in the early days he drove through to the Cincinnati markets. From 1860 to 1895, he was the largest buyer in this section, his trade extending over Shelby, Decatur and Rush county. He retired from active business about the year 1905. In all his business transactions he was known to be square and honest in his dealings. His promises once given were never broken. His honesty and veracity meant more to him than anything he possessed.

He was a very progressive man in his views, always working for better public improvements and always in favor of higher education and better schools.

His home and its surroundings were his greatest pride and his hospitality was extended to every one alike. He was always ready to help the poor and needy and was never known to turn a beggar away from his door.

He was the last survivor of a family of twelve children his brother Lewis having preceded him to the Great Beyond by four or five years. For the last two years he has been confined to his home, but his last illness dates back to December 5th since when he has gradually grown weaker from the infirmities of old age.

As old father Time was recording the death of the old year and the birth of the new, the Death angel called and our dear father answered and closed his eyes in eternal sleep, January 1st, 1916.

Aged 90 years, 9 months and 17 days. He leaves to mourn his loss, two daughters, Mrs. Wilbur Brown and Mrs. Harve Brown, three granddaughters, Miss Carrie Brown, Mrs. Earl Harcourt and Mrs. Glen Foster of Rushville, one great grandson, Charles Brown Foster and a host of friends. May his soul rest in peace.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexion; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

MASSACRE TALK WAS IN THE AIR

Last Days at Monastir Were Really Exciting Because Town Captured in Really Bulgarians.

Formerly Ruled Town With Iron Hand Bulgarians With Firearms Being Shot as Spies.

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Salonica, Greece, Dec. 16, (By Mail).—The last days at Monastir, before its fall, were indescribably exciting. Monastir is really Bulgarian. Talk of massacre was in the air. While the Bulgarian guns boomed within earshot of the town rumors of plans for a general massacre by the Bulgarians of the few remaining Serbian civilians filled the air. The few remaining Serbian civilians were going to massacre the Bulgarians. The Serbian soldiers were going to loot the town. Among the Bulgarians were hundreds of Bulgarian soldiers disguised as civilians, who at the last moment would mobilize in the town and ravage it. All these rumors found believers.

Nish, when the German-Austrian army entered Serbia, decorated with flags of the allies, believing the French and British would come dashing in on trains and stop the German tide. But the days went by and the flags were stained by the rains and became as limp and lifeless as the hopes of Nish for rescue. Nish finally fell to the Teutons and the Bulgars with the bedraggled flags still hanging. The Serbian folk at Ushkub did the same. Ushkub fell with Nish.

Monastir had no such feeling. In Monastir, Bulgarian until 3 years ago, were plenty of folk who would have hung German, Austrian and Bulgarian flags except for the presence of a few Serbian soldiers who held Monastir with an iron hand. Through the nights before the Bulgarians came, they marched the streets in patrols of four. Serbian civilian volunteers stood at all important street corners with rifles. Bulgarians found with firearms were considered spies of traitors and shot. The few Serbs in the town were lords of authority as long as their little army of two regiments held Balbuna Pass, 40 miles north of Monastir.

On Friday, Nov. 12, we saw a strange procession pass through the streets. It was a little regiment of Serbian farmers with shovels. In their queer fur coats, woolen stockings and odd hats, they presented a most peculiar sight. Their long handled, diamond-shaped shovels took the places of bayonets. The long ragged line marched out of the town. Women and girls ran alongside, carrying baskets of food. A few miles out they stopped and began to dig trenches under the direction of Serbian officers.

This was the first sign that Monastir was in danger. To the north the little Serbian army was giving way against terrific odds. Sometime soon they would come falling back through the mountain passes and over the farms and hills to these trenches the farmers were digging and here make their last stand. The men with the shovels told Monastir the whole story.

That night in Monastir the guard was doubled. Civilians were ordered indoors. The rumble of hundreds of ox carts moving provisions from the town filled the night.

Saturday afternoon there was a noise like distant thunder. Guns! The faces on the streets told no stories; but you passed Monastirians who listened as to sweet music; you passed Serbs who listened with fear in their hearts.

There were no communiques. Only rumors, signs. Sunday was a bad day. The sound of guns was nearer. In the late afternoon wagons began carrying packages from the Russian, Italian and French consulates to the station. Thus was the story being told of what was happening north of the city. At five I went with a correspondent to army headquarters. We were received by Col. Niketich. He entered the room and shook our hands.

"What about our going to the front?" we asked him.

"Gentlemen," he said "The situation is very grave. We have done our best but we're falling back. Only two regiments are left. They can hold Balbuna Pass until tonight. They will fall back and hold Perlepe two days, then fall back toward Monastir. They can hold Monastir three days. Gentlemen, we are ready to evacuate. "We tried to sympathize with him. He wouldn't accept sympathy. He stood straight and proud. "It's war," he said simply, "and the Serbians have done the best they could." Then Col. Niketich put the censor's mark on our despatches and as we started to say good-bye he said:

"But, gentlemen, what about yourselves? How will you leave the town?" We said we had hoped to go toward Perlepe.

"Don't do that," said the Colonel. "You certainly would be caught by Bulgarian comitadjis. Let me warn you not to go on the roads outside the town. We said good-bye to him as if we were going to see him again. He said good-bye in the same spirit. In this rush of war you catch a glimpse of a fine man now and then; learn to know him and like him and then, he is gone.

He's somewhere in the mountains now, this always smiling, always cheerful Serbian colonel, retreating surely, but proud of his Serbia and that she has done the best she could.

All Monastir was at the railroad station in the morning for the last train to Salonica. The allied consuls were there with their families; Serbian families with pets in the arms of the children; kitchen or parlor fittings in the arms of distressed men and women.

The Bulgarians, closer than ever were making their cannon thunder. The sharp staccato of Serbian artillery was lessened, for Serbian munition was almost exhausted. On a road a few miles out of town a regiment came to a stop. The tired, almost exhausted soldiers sank to the earth. They were the first section of the retreating Serbs to reach the trenches on the hillside, made there purposely so that it would be impossible for the Serbian soldiers to retreat. "Fight it out to the last man and to the last breath," was the Serbian motto. With a few hours the trench fighting was under way, and the fall of Monastir was at hand.

CHURCH SURVEY OF STATE LIKELY

Rural Conditions in Indiana to be Examined by Church and Country Life Commission

Arrangements Discussed Recently at Conference Which Was Held in Columbus, Ohio.

Organized survey of rural church conditions in this state was in prospect today.

The movement probably will be started within a few months and completed in about a year, with the aid of a small army of volunteer workers, including churchmen and agriculturists. Present plans call for use of the survey as a basis for a future extensive campaign for church and country life improvement in the state. All work will be inter-denominational.

Word of the prospective church survey came today from headquarters of the Commission on Church and Country Life at Columbus, O., and names of a number of men in this state who have the plans under consideration were made known. The arrangements were discussed at the national church and country life conference held recently in Columbus where President Wilson was one of the speakers. Delegates from this state held a special conference at that meeting to formulate tentative plans for a rural church survey, to be started as soon possible after their return.

Among the persons who are expected to be leaders in the movement are:

C. Rufener, Clay City; E. A. Hanley, Franklin; Frederick Greensburg; F. E. Lumley, Indianapolis; M. C. Pearson, Indianapolis; Luther E. Sellers, Indianapolis; G. I. Christie, Lafayette; Jno. P. Hale, Lafayette; Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith, Lafayette; C. B. Hershey, Merom; J. W. Street, Nashville; John M. Walker, New Albany; Rev. Esther Cook, New Castle; Enos Harvey, Noblesville; Walfred Lindstrom, Pleasant Lake; S. E. Nicholson, Richmond; Chas. E. Tebbett, Richmond; Rev. Harry Blunt, Indianapolis.

Similar surveys are contemplated in most other states. Working plans are to be modeled after those used during the past year in Ohio, where the first state-wide scientific inquiry into country church conditions ever made in the United States is now being completed by a state association working under the supervision of the Commission on Church and Country Life. This commission is a subsidiary body of the Federal Council of Churches, an inter-denominational organization of heads of churches in the United States.

Each of the hundreds of volunteer workers who would be employed in such a survey as that contemplated in this state would ascertain facts about country churches within the township or locality assigned to him, such as these, for example: Membership, Location, distance from another church, and nature of members (whether farm owners or tenants). These facts would be reported to a central office and assembled there.

The results shown then would be used as the basis for an educational campaign to make churches extend their functions to include some of these interests: Federation of several churches in each community good roads, public health, better farming with special stress on agricultural college extension work, co-operation among farmers for buying, selling and producing, consolidated schools, public recreation and establishment of social and recreation centers at churches. Country preachers are to be urged to educate themselves more thoroughly in the practical interests and needs of a community, without sacrificing purely religious work.

Among the results indicated by the incomplete rural church survey in Ohio are these: Eighty-three per cent of the churches have less than one hundred members and 21 per cent have less than 25. Only one in 16 has an individual preacher and a large proportion of preachers get about the same pay as a day laborer. Less than 40 per cent of the rural population are church members. Only one-third are increasing in membership and one church in nine has been abandoned in recent years. Headquarters for the national church betterment movement, which has among its promoters practical farmers as well as churchmen, are at 517 Commercial Building, Columbus, Ohio, in charge of Charles O. Gill.

A conviction in this case would go exceedingly hard on Eddie Wolter. It will be remembered that he was arrested three times last spring on "bootlegging" charges in police court and took an appeal to the circuit court. Wolter decided not to fight the charge in circuit court and entered a plea of guilty. He was fined the minimum under the law, which was $50 and thirty days. He served the thirty days and paid the fine.

When Judge Sparks gave him the minimum it was with the understanding that he would not again engage in the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. The penalty for a second offense is very severe and it is certain that Wolter will fight the charges to a finish. The arrests this morning were made by Sheriff Cavitt and Deputy Sheriff Sullivan.

Salvation Army Will Hold Prayer Service For Unsung Sunday

There have been from twenty to twenty-five conversions in the "siege for souls" being conducted at the Salvation Army hall in South Pearl street, Captain Thorpe reported today. A special prayer service for those who are still unconvinced will be held Sunday afternoon. An all-day meeting will also be held at the hall Sunday, with a basket dinner at noon. The woman evangelist will preach tonight. Captain Thorpe asked today that all churches help pray for the lost when the special prayer service is held Sunday afternoon.

YEGGMEN BLOW SAFES IN MILROY AND GET AWAY WITH $65 IN CASH

Hardware Store

Robbers Destroy Safe at Meek & Spillman General Store And

Finding Safe Open, Thieves Spend
Social Hour at Lumber Co.
Smoking And Getting Warm

houses in Milroy early today, blowing the safes in two of them and
making away with approximately
sixty-five dollars in cash and $1,200
in notes. In the third place entered
money.

Bedford this afternoon to track the
Milroy about 5:15 o'clock.

The robbers broke into the J. E.
Patton hardware store and stole
from $30 to $35 in cash and $1,200
in notes, into the Meek & Spillman
general merchandise store where
they obtained about $30 in cash and
into the office of the Milroy branch of the Greer-Wilkinson Lumber company.

The safes in the Milroy bank or postoffice were not disturbed, even though the bank is in the building
adjoining the Patton hardware
store. The Patton store and the Meek & Spillman store are about
three squares apart.

Several persons were found in Milroy today who said that they
the trouble to investigate. It was between one and two o'clock that
heard.

The burglars were festive souls,
judging from the condition of the office of the Greer-Wilkinson Lumber company, the yeggmen had a little
social time either before or after
the safe-blowing because the yeggs
would not tarry long after such a job.

Milroy people expressed the belief that the thieves had looted in the lumber company's office waiting for the time to get "ripe." The safe
found a box of cigars and helped
themselves liberally. Then they apparently built a fire and had a sociable half hour or so before they started on their escapade.

The natural conclusion of Milroy
people was that it was the work of
an opinion was the fact that the
safes in both places were blown to pieces, beyond all repair, and the additional fact that they did not at-
one in the postoffice.

The work of the yeggs was very similar to those who made a mid-
night raid on Carthage about a month ago, breaking into a number
safe in the S. W. Newsom store. The belief was strong that the robbers who visited Milroy belonged to the same gang as those who were at Carthage.

MOTION TO RETAX COST

They Were Too High

case against John Vanatta, recently found guilty of a charge of
"bootlegging" in the circuit court
and fined $100 to which was added 90 days was filed in the circuit court today by John Joyce, Vanatta's attorney. The total costs in the case amount to $64.05. It is alleged in the motion to retax that
tried in police court, allowed the jurors fees at the rate of $2.50 a day when this should have been taxed
ence in the costs of $16.80.

TWO REASONS FOR WANTING HESEMAN

Stole Is Recovered Here, Where
he Passed Bad Checks

DISAPPEARS EARLY TODAY

The police were today looking for Ollie Heseman of Greensburg on charges of stealing a horse and
buggy and issuing fraudulent checks.
Heseman hired a rig yesterday at
the L. L. Cunningham livery stable
in Greensburg for the purpose of
found here at the Smalley stable
this morning by Mr. Cunningham
and all trace of Heseman lost.

the police stumbled on to another
crime, the check forging crime.
Heseman secured a room last night
at the Roll Richey home and took
his meals at the Mrs. Susan Hayes boarding house. This morning he gave Mrs. Richey a check for $4 and Mrs. Hayes one for $2, neither of the checks being good.

Automobile Belonging to O. D.

The Gowdy blacksmith shop, owned by O. D. Headlee, was completely destroyed by fire late Friday after-
about $500, partially covered by insurance. An old automobile belonging to Mr. Headlee was in the shop
at the time and was destroyed.

the forge or an old stove with which
propped up and people visiting the
shop have frequently remarked it
was likely to cause a fire.

Mr. Headlee was in his home not
forty feet away when he discovered
the fire, but it had such a good start
the fire fighting facilities at hand.

Official Edict Goes Forth From Police

TODAY WAS A DAY OF GRACE

And Card Games

Today was the last day for all
the police department and starting Monday the law, which has heretofore been permitted to drag rather freely, will be strictly enforced.

card games and punch boards came
only after numerous complaints. The complaints for the most part were
regarding boys and minors being
permitted to play the punch boards
and also being allowed to play in
the various rum games that have been thriving in Rushville.

The police were busy today notify-
and cigar stores in which punch board and rum games have flourished that Monday must see the end of them. The order for the most part
was obeyed today, but in some instances the one day of grace was
taken advantage of and the boards
and games were still in progress.

It was understood that the real
source of the complaint against the
punch boards and card games came
originally from the grand jury room.
This could not be confirmed, but it
examining witnesses several stated
that certain transactions occurred
know the nature of this game and
the reasons as to why the punch
boards and rum games were being
allowed to run.

As a result it was decided to call
off all the games and punch boards.
The grand jury is said to have re-
delving into an altogether different
subject. There is a question as to whether the rum games and punch
boards constitute gambling, but to be
away with from now on. In the rum games the loser is said to pay
a dime and the winner of the game
gets the checks. Whether this is gambling in the eyes of the law is not known.

On the punch boards sometime the
"victim" gets something for nothing
and some times he spends his money
understood that the grand jury was
looking to Prosecutor Stevens regarding these games, but in order to give everyone an equal chance the
warning was sent out and the matter expected to rest as long as the
boards and card games are out of
commission.

Years, Kills Himself at Muncie

Troubles Were Also Partly
Cause For His Act

Frank Whiting, age about forty
years, formerly a resident of Milroy,
committed suicide at Muncie, his home, late Friday afternoon.

The reason assigned for his act
in Muncie's dispatches is that Whit-
inger feared dismissal by the Pennsylvania railroad company because
he had allowed driftwood to collect
at a Pennsylvania bridge in Muncie,
which was destroyed a few days ago
by the city to prevent the lowlands
being flooded.

However, it was stated at Milroy today that many who were acquainted with the family declared they believed domestic troubles rather than any fear of dismissal prompted him
to take his life.

Whiting has not lived in Milroy
for fifteen years, but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiting, reside in Milroy and a number of
relatives live in southern Rush county and adjoining counties.

It was stated today by those who
are familiar with the family that
relatives of Whiting have committed suicide. It was said that an uncle of his killed himself about sev-
years a brother of Whiting's took
his life.

In addition to the widow and several children, who resided at Muncie,
and his parents, Whiting is survived by the following relatives who

Four sisters, Mrs. Morton Campbell of Gowdy; Mrs. W. C. Hasty, of Walker township; Mrs. Doll Jones of Milroy and Mrs. Rex Kemple of Homer; and two brothers, Monroe
Whiting of Blue Ridge.

Settlement of Strike Which Caused Million Dollars Damage in Prospect This Afternoon.

(By United Press.)

East Youngstown, O., Jan. 8.—
The strike of 6,500 men in the Republic Iron & Steel company may be settled late today through acceptance by the men of the company's
offer to increase wages from nineteen and one-half to twenty-two cents an hour.

Mayor W. H. Cunningham estimated that $1,000,000 damage was done
in the nine hours rioting last night
by a mob of several thousand strikers of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube
company and the Republic company.

Practically the entire business district was in ruins. Buildings that
were looted and wrecked by the mob.
The fourteen saloons were destroyed.

Terror held the 10,000 residents of this city in its grip today. Residents
this afternoon feared a clash between the strikers and state troops
sent here to restore order. Many

SAMUEL L. TRABUE BEING MENTIONED

Democratic Chairman is Urged by Wayne Co. Democrats to Become Candidate for Congress.

IS NOT IN LEAST DISPLEASED

Intimation that opponents within the party to Congressman Finly Gray's candidacy for another nomination may center their efforts on Samuel L. Trabue of this city, Democratic county chairman, to cause
him to become a candidate have reached here from Richmond since John M. Lontz of Richmond refuses to run.

Mr. Trabue is very popular not only in Rushville, but also among Democrats of the district with whom he is widely acquainted. The Richmond Item said Wayne county Democrats favored Mr. Trabue since Lontz turned them down.

When interviewed this morning Mr.
Trabue said he had not yet seen the
article in the Richmond Item favoring him as a candidate for congress,
by Wayne county Democrats. He admitted that he had been urged by
prominent Democrats from every
name to go before the coming primary, but for business reasons had not yet consented to do so.

Sullivan. He worked at that time on the Dave Webster farm, northwest of the city.

Indictments Which Charge Specific
Sales Were Made.

Wolter is Accused of Selling Beer to Harvey Clark and Milton Wain-
scott October 24.

RECENTLY SERVED SENTENCE

Pending Against Sharp.

Liquor law violations in three indictments each were returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon
against Eddie H. Wolter, who has served one term for "bootlegging"
and Luther C. Sharp, proprietor of
a meat shop in West Second street,
who was recently arrested on a similar charge in police court.

The arrests on the wholesale indictments were made this morning
bond in each of the cases against them. Hyman Schatz is on the bond
of Wolter and Will Mulno and W. C.
Smith are on the bond of Sharp.

The indictments came after a day of investigating by the grand jury.
One indictment against Wolter is
for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor on Sunday, a specific sale being alleged in the true bill. It is alleged in this indictment that he sold
three glasses of beer to Harvey Clark for fifteen cents. This transaction, it is charged, took place on Sunday, October 24, 1915.

The second indictment against Wolter charges that on October 24
he sold six glasses of beer to Milton Wainseott for thirty cents. The last of the three, charges him with selling without a license and charges
that on the same date he sold Harvey Clark liquor in less than five
gallon lots at a time and names the
amount of three drinks for which Clark paid the sum of fifteen cents.

The indictments against Sharp are similar. The first charges him with
operating a place where intoxicating
liquors were kept and sold. This indictment is drawn under the statute
providing for "blind tigers" and under which the state has met with
greatest success as far as convictions are concerned.

The second indictment charges
him with unlawful sale on Sunday
and the third charge is that he sold Milton Wainseott six glasses of beer for the sum of thirty cents, the sale
being alleged to have taken place on Sunday, October 24, 1915.

The Wainseott mentioned in the indictments is the same Wainseott against whom there is a charge of
"bootlegging" pending in police
court. He is waiting in jail for a trial. It will be recalled that the police raided the Wainseott home on Christmas eve and obtained seven quarts of whiskey. Wainseott was supposed to know more about the
illegal sale of liquor than he would
tell, and on the following day a raid
took place at the Sharp meat market.

It is believed that the six indictments against Wolter and Sharp are
in some way connected with the arrest and holding of Wainseott. The surprising thing about the indictments is that the intoxicating liquor mentioned in the charges is named as beer and that it was bought by the drink. A keg party is intimated by close examination of the charges.

STAMMERING can be stopped, permanently. Perfect speech is being restored to stammerers day after day and week after week at the Bogue Institute for Stammerers. There was a time when stammering was regarded as a mysterious affliction from which the stammerer could not escape. But, study and experience have discovered the causes of stammering—and when the causes became known there was a natural way to overcome them. And, when the cause of stammering is eliminated, stammering must stop—and perfect speech is restored.

Stammering is a handicap that stands between every man and business success. It stands between every woman and the place she should take in society. It is a grim, forbidding wall that shuts every afflicted person out from most that is worth while in life.

The Bogue method of stopping stammering is based on the personal experience of Benjamin N. Bogue, president and founder of the Bogue Institute, who freed himself from stammering after having been afflicted for twenty years. Mr. Bogue knows the struggle made by every stammerer in the effort to regain perfect speech—for he has experienced it himself.

Beginning on page five of the seventy-page free book offered you below, you will find the story of Mr. Bogue's experiences—how he suffered as a stammerer and how he regained perfect speech. Begin on page sixteen and read in detail of the causes of stammering. The book includes a straightforward statement showing how thoroughly your interests would be protected as a student at the Bogue Institute. It explains, also, why persons, under eight years of age, and those not of normal intelligence, are not accepted as students at the Institute.

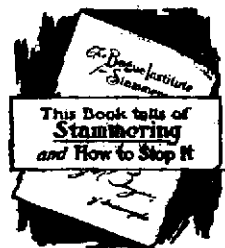

In addition you will be interested in the statements of many students who have been restored to perfect speech. This book will be sent to you free if you will write your name and address on the coupon below and mail the coupon in an envelope to the Institute. Get this interesting book at once.

God's Use of Men And Means in Bible Days Applied to Present Time by Rev. W. M. Whitsitt

Special Union Meetings This Week Will Culminate in Church Attendance Day on Sunday

God's use of men and means to extend His kingdom in Biblical days likened to present day methods was the substance of the sermon at the closing week of prayer services at the Main Street Christian church Friday night. The sermon was preached by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt of St. Paul's M. E. church.

The week of prayer services, which have been held each night this week, will culminate in Church Attendance Day Sunday when an earnest effort will be made by all of the congregations of the city, both Protestant and Catholic, to get every person in Rushville to attend some service. The Rev. Mr. Whitsitt chose his text from the tenth chapter of Acts. He asserted that God is doing today just what he did as chronicled in Acts, when he called Peter to go into Caesarea to the home of a Gentile, Cornelius, and preach the word of God.

"Prayer is the means by which men are brought to God," said the minister. "And also the means by which God is brought to men. Probably the latter should be emphasized because more frequently God is brought to men. The Bible is full of instances of prayer. It is a book of prayer. Here's a man, in this story, groping after God, praying and using all the light he had. As he prayed the angel came and directed him.

"Here's the other man (Peter) praying. God hears him and answers his prayers. God is answering prayers as much now as he did then. And praying is not an easy thing by any means. God prayed until he sweat blood. And others will have to sweat blood before this old world is brought to Christ."

The minister said the text also suggested the thought not only of men being brought to God by prayer, but of God's use of men, sometimes sinful men. Peter and Cornelius had nothing in common, he said yet they did not live so far apart although the means of travel then was slow. But God was working on these two men at different ends of the line, the minister asserted, and He is using men just the same today as then.

"When Peter went to Cornelius, he had a message," continued the pastor, "God still has a message. Here's God's use of means and men. It is a peculiar thing, too, that Peter went over to Caesarea and found the congregation ready and waiting. They were not filled with the things of the world. They were in a receptive frame of mind. It was unlawful for the Jews to associate with the Gentiles, but Peter said God was leading him and he was going. Peter was accompanied by a committee to see that he was orthodox. The Holy Ghost fell upon the people to whom Peter preached and the committee admitted that it had never seen anything like it before. Peter was taken before the committee in Jerusalem and accused of doing wrong, of overstepping his bounds. He told the committee a plain story of what happened and they did not interfere. God had a time getting Peter out of his bounds.

"There is also the thought of God establishing His church. Peter saw the people of Caesarea should be taken into the church and he established one. Why not modernize this tenth chapter of Acts, and use it in our own church? Let us give our means and ourselves to bring about the things Peter did."

Mrs. Nettie Orne Crawford and Miss Ethel Horral attended the dance in Glenwood last evening.

MERCHANTS BUSY TAKING INVOICE

Inventory of Stock Entails Vast Amount of Work But it is Annual Task That is Necessary

JANUARY SALES TO FOLLOW

This is a busy season with the majority of the local merchants and dealers who are taking the annual inventory of their stock. Many of the stores close their fiscal year during the latter part of December so that stock can be taken before the first of the year. Others begin invoicing shortly after January 1.

Invoicing in some of the stores entails a vast amount of work. Especially is this true in dry goods and clothing stores and in other lines where there are a large number of articles to be taken. Some of the dealers employ additional help for this purpose and complete the work in one day or even less time and prepare their statements later. The inventories are usually taken after the holidays season as the stocks are lower than at any other time of the year.

Since the new income tax law went into effect some of the dealers who formerly took stock in February have changed their fiscal years so it will close with the calendar year. By doing so they are saved the trouble of making an additional statement to the internal revenue collector and the income tax blanks can be filled out from figures given by their invoicing sheets. The income tax law provides that when the fiscal year of any corporation closes later than the calendar year the report to the internal revenue office must show the business that is done after the close of the calendar year and the time the report is filed.

The invoicing season is usually followed by inventory sales and some splendid bargains are offered at that time. The prices are reduced as many lines are broken and the merchants desire to dispose of the "odds and ends" in order to make room for the big stocks which will soon arrive. The spring lines are already purchased and before many days the first shipments will be received. The public knows why the special prices are placed on goods following the inventory season and have become accustomed to look for the annual advertisements announcing the date of the sales and the varieties that will be offered at bargain prices.

The beginning of the fiscal year is an important time for most firms. It is then that they outline their plans for the coming year. In case of corporations it is the time when the annual reports are made concerning the business for the past year and the future plans of the firm are discussed while the stockholders are together.

Grippe has long ceased to be a joke. It is estimated that at least half the population of Rush county is afflicted, either slightly or seriously, with the common malady—so common in fact that folks seldom ever take stock of it until it has them on the flat of their back.

The fact of the matter is people do not take the gripe seriously enough. It has always been regarded lightly. We have been reading for weeks reams and reams of advice from state and national health officers. They tell us how to avoid the gripe. Undue exposure probably brings on more cases than any other one thing.

While very seldom fatal, the gripe frequently brings on some other disorder that is serious and may cause death. Gripe often is the aftermath of a bad cold. Bad colds can frequently be checked if the common practice of "wearing them out" is not relied on too fully. The best measure of success in breaking up a cold is found from consulting a physician.

People with colds can not be too careful in their daily touching of elbows with their neighbors not to help spread the disease to others. Too frequently they cough and sneeze in the presence of others without attempting to prevent the dissemination of millions of little germs which may find happy lodgment in fertile soil and cause the illness of a friend. It is well to keep your weather eye out for the gripe for it has proved this winter that it is no longer a joke.

Henry Ford has an automobile factory in Detroit. He has another across the river in Canada. It is not the river that prevents his selling his "Made in America" machines in Canada—it is a high tariff wall.

So the Ford company took its capital and invested in a Canadian factory, giving employment to Canadian labor, furnishing business for Canadian merchants, placing money in Canadian banks and paying taxes to the Canadian government. Canada is wise. So will the American people be wise when they reconstruct the demolished tariff wall which will keep European and Asiatic products out of American markets and thus rebuild and protect American industries.

"SONS OF LIBERTY"
The vigilance of government officials, aided by detectives and renegades, soon disclosed the secrets of the American Knights, implicating prominent men. Another organization, therefore, followed, the most thorough going of all, known as the "Sons of Liberty." The fact that Vallandigham was elected Supreme Commander at the Grand Council held in New York attested the animus and aims of this order.

G. O. P. CONTROLS BOTH BRANCHES

New Jersey Legislature, Opening Jan. 11 Promises to be Fraught With Strife

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Trenton, N. J., Jan. 8.—The 140th legislature will convene Jan. 11 for a session which promises to be fraught with bitter party and factional strife. The reason for this forecast is that New Jersey, with its Republican legislature, Democratic governor and Democratic other state officials, next fall will vote for President, U. S. Senator and Governor. And this is Wilson's home state. It may develop into the biggest fight in the history of this compact little commonwealth. The Democrats in the State Senate and House of Assembly will strive to enhance the fortunes of their party to the end that President Wilson may roll up a big majority in his home state; while the G. O. P. representatives will maneuver to have the advantage in the coming contest before the people. In the State Senate the Republican majority will be 5, there being 13 of them to 8 Democrats. The House will have 40 Republicans to 20 Democrats and the majority on joint ballot will be 25, thus insuring the election of a Republican State Treasurer to succeed the Democratic incumbent, State Chairman Grosscup.

One America for All; All Americas for One

Secretary of State Lansing in welcoming the Delegates of the Pan-American Scientific Congress at Washington sounded the key-note of what may become the greatest alliance in the world, when he stated that "The American family of nations might well take for its motto that of Dumas' famous musketeers, 'One for all, all for one.'"

In this week's LITERARY DIGEST (January 8th) the leading article depicts American newspaper opinion on the recent "get-together Conference" of the big American family of nations.

Closely following this article in interest, if not equaling it, is a comprehensive description of the Naval Increase Programs which are before the Congress and a summary of editorial opinion regarding them. This article is accompanied by a table which shows in detail the difference in the Navy Board's July report, the Navy Board's October report, and Secretary Daniel's program.

Other features of unusual interest in THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 8th are these:

Wild Finance of the Warring Countries

So Vast Are the Sums Involved That in One Country Alone the People Subscribed Over $2.00 for Every Minute That Has Elapsed Since the Crucifixion.

The War Booming Our Marine Labor's Peace Council Under Fire Victory by Arithmetic.

The Coming Trade War The Descent Upon Egypt (As Seen by German Newspapers)

The Snare of the Nets (With a Chart Showing Where the English Channel is Netted for Submarines) Was Buddha a Persian?

Salvaging the Maimed Soldiers Water-Power and the Farmer The Shortage of Quinin What Are the "D. T.S."?

Ragtime Wrangling Germany's War Pictures What the Nearing Case Won American Jews to the Rescue (They Expect to Raise $5,000,000 Before the War Ends)

A Feast of New Cartoons, Maps, and Photographs

There is no other weekly magazine with which THE LITERARY DIGEST can justly be compared. It is in a class by itself—the only weekly news-magazine which does not burden its readers with its own personal editorial convictions. Its policy, rather, is to present public opinion as reflected in the representative newspapers, magazines, and periodicals throughout the world, upon all important subjects, and illustrated by the best cartoons and photographs. This is done without prejudice or partizan bias. And because world-news is a record of the thought and action of living people, so THE LITERARY DIGEST is the most interesting magazine published. Many hundreds of thousands of men and women have come to depend upon it for an exact focus upon all matters that affect humanity everywhere—War, Science, Politics, Invention, Literature, Art, Religion, Industry, Sports, and Drama.

Why not buy this week's number, if you are not acquainted with THE DIGEST, and see how this famous news-magazine may quickly become indispensable to you?

THREE ECLIPSES TO BE SEEN IN 1916

There Will be Two of The Moon And One of The Sun, First One Falling on January 20.

ALL WILL BE VISIBLE HERE

There will be five eclipses during the coming year but only three of them will be visible in this country.

A partial eclipse of the moon is scheduled for January 20. This eclipse will be visible here, the moon entering the shadow at 2:10 o'clock, reaching its height at 2:54 o'clock and leaving the shadow at 3:39 o'clock.

There is to be a total eclipse of the sun on February 3, which is an unfortunate date. If it could have been moved up a trifle and scheduled for groundhog day there would have been less likelihood of the groundhog seeing his shadow. The February 3 eclipse begins here at 9:17 o'clock and ends at 11:11 o'clock. A partial eclipse of the moon is scheduled for July 14 and 15. It begins here at 9:34 o'clock, is greatest at 11:01 o'clock and leaves the shadow at 12:27 o'clock on the morning of July 15.

An annular eclipse of the sun, on July 30 and a partial eclipse of the sun on December 24, will not be visible here.

WAS DIVORCE GRANTED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Decree Was Granted Bennie Jordan And Leora Clevenger Was Refused One From Ira

THIRD ONE WAS DISMISSED

Divorce suit was observed in circuit court this morning. One was granted and one was refused. Bennie Jordan was granted a divorce from Mary Jordan upon payment of the costs. He testified that she abandoned him without cause. Mrs. Jordan was his second wife and was at least twenty years his senior.

Leora Clevenger was refused a divorce from Ira Clevenger. Judge Sparks was not satisfied that she deserved a divorce and decided that it was about six of one and a half dozen of the other. Clevenger testified that she was intimate with other men and related certain instances. She alleged cruel and inhuman treatment.

The divorce suit of Sarah Cadle against Clyde Cadle was stricken from the docket because of a lack of prosecution. The defendant had previously defaulted and the plaintiff was to deposit $5 for the state. This was ordered done on May 26, 1915, but no deposit was made.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as practical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer, Mr. A. H. Schlichte.

RUSHVILLE IN GREAT VICTORY

Downs Shelbyville in Hard Fought And Exciting Game by Score of 28 to 21

FIRST HALF ENDED 9 TO 8

Locals Put up Great Offensive And Defensive Game And Maintained Edge Throughout

Rushville had the edge on Shelbyville last night and by maintaining a small lead throughout the second half managed to win a well earned victory by a score of 28 to 21. The game was the most exciting played here in several years and was witnessed by a large crowd. The local team slightly outplayed Shelbyville both on defensive and offensive, but the game was so close that it was not decided until the final whistle.

If Shelbyville expected the Rushville team to "crack" under the tension of so close a game a big disappointment was in store because Rushville instead of "breaking" played all the harder and towards the end of the game the team was going even better than at the start.

Rushville did not wait for Shelbyville to carry the fight to them but started in from the first whistle and took the offensive. The first half ended 9 to 8 in favor of Rushville and then the real fight started. There was only one time during the entire game that Shelbyville was ahead and that was early in the first half. A field goal by McKay gave his team a two point lead with the score standing 6 to 4. This was soon overcome.

Both teams put up a sterling exhibition of guarding and while the game was rough it was not overly so and fouls were not very many. So close was the guarding that the score was kept down, especially in the first half. In passing Rushville excelled the Shelbyville team. Shelbyville was unable to solve the short pass used by Rushville and the scoring alternated between Stoops and Martin.

In the second half Rushville maintained a one or two point lead throughout. With six minutes to play the score stood 20 to 18 in Rushville's favor. At this point the excitement was great and it has been many seasons since as much spirit and enthusiasm was shown. A long field goal by Stoops seemed to put more pep in the locals and while holding Shelbyville his team mates succeeded in running the score from twenty points to a total of twenty-eight.

For some unknown reason the game was late in getting started. It was almost nine o'clock before play was called and despite the fact that the large crowd became restless it was amply repaid for remaining until the finish. The game was advertised for eight o'clock.

There were no individual stars on the Rushville team as the guards deserve as much credit for the victory as the forwards. Hardin, the Shelbyville center, around whom the team is built and who is a terror to most teams was closely guarded and while he got away several times the work of the guards told in the end, and brute strength alone was of no avail to him in this game.

Rushville (28)	Shelbyville (21)
Stoops	McKay
Martin	Forward
Frazier, Pope	Center
	Guard
Field goals—Stoops (5), Martin, (5), Caron, (1), McKay, (2), Higgins, (2), Hardin, (4), Hall (1).
Foul goals—Stoops, (6), Hardin, (3).
Referee—Smith of Indianapolis.

HAS WON MOST OF ITS GAMES

Valparaiso, Jan. 8.—The Valparaiso high school basketball team, which plays East Chicago has its eyes set on the Gary sectional tournament March 10 and intends to win. Then the Valpo boys will journey down to Bloomington and show the down-staters how to shoot baskets—that is, if local dope is correct.

Hammond writers have been generous enough to concede that the Jess Willards of the Valpo team have it on anything in the steel circuit. They predict that Valpo will win tonight.

BLIND TEAM IS REAL SENSATION

Basketball Five From Ohio State School For Blind Said to be a Wonder

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—Columbus has a basketball team that literally can shoot baskets with its eyes shut! Fans who've seen the boys in action say they're wonders. The little squad of sightless lads wears the colors of the Ohio State School for the Blind.

There's Joe Arnot of Lima, Ohio, whirlwind forward; Joe's left eye has only 3-200 normal vision and his right eye 5-200 normal vision. Yet Joe, in three games he's played this season has averaged 15½ baskets a game. B. McQueen, captain and center, has a cataract on his right eye is 1-25 normal. But he has a weird, uncanny sense of where the basket is and sticks 'em in the pan, one, two, three.

There isn't a man on the squad who can read even poster print. Totally blind students are the team's backers. They can tell when a basket is made and their rooting would shame a college bunch. Are they winners? The squad has secured 205 points thus far this season to its opponents 68!

FAIRVIEW WON

The Fairview Athletic club basketball team defeated the Orange independents last night on the Orange floor by a score of 31 to 12. The game was fast and exciting in the first half but Fairview pulled away in the final period. Fairview would like to book some games. G. F. Powers, Fairview is the manager.

TIGERS WON

The Rushville Tigers won from New Salem last night in a rough game by a score of 32 to 12. The Tigers have lost but one game this season and ready to book games with the surrounding towns. Arthur Pulliam, 810 West Third street is the manager.

PRICE IS HIGH

Anderson, Jan. 8.—With the rabbit season closing on January 10—just two short days away—Madison county hunters were busy today trying to make a dent in the shortage that has prevailed. The toothsome delicacy has been selling at thirty-five cents here. This price, which was the highest in years, later gave way to 25 cents. Rains of last summer are said to have been responsible.

INDIANA THEFT RECALLED

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 7.—Officials of the internal revenue department at the federal building expressed the belief today that the robbers at St. Paul belong to the same gang which robbed the stamp deputy of Evansville of stamps worth $15,000 recently. They said they believed federal agents would soon round up the gang. The loot stolen at Evansville has not been recovered.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)
Here is a riddle I ask you to read; What is no cheaper, but deared indeed When it's marked down? If you give up, perforce, This is the answer—a Pillow of course.

New York, Jan. 7.—Call it pillow
or cushion, as you will; by any name
it costs as much. Such a work of
almost seems worth it. A cushion is indeed comfy to have around one
and a round one is the pink of perfection, especially when it is made
of rose pink taffeta shirred on cords
and caught together in the center
with a cluster of French ribbon
roses. A robin egg blue one with a bunch of gold fruit in the middle is also alluring, but not a round robin.
A heart of gold is a heart shaped,
yellow velvet cushion with edging of
narrow brown fur banding and then,
four fluffy chiffon ruffles, jaunty and
jaundiced. An oblong pillow of seal-
skin, with deep ruffles of ecru laces
at each end, caught with garlands of
tiny French flowers, is something
nifty for a well rounded patrician elbow to rest upon, but it's not for a
red rasped crazybone of the hoi
polloi. An oblong of black velvet
with a wide, plain banding of silver
gauze, four cornered, with silver
tassels, makes a striking background
for a glodenhead. Sort of a trans-
fusion of metals. Wonderful and bewilderingly exotic and Oriental are the bolster cushion made of bands of galloon, Chinese embroidery, velvet, fur, and bedwork. Be-
dubbed Sausage Rolls. So divers
and piquant are the many materials

Day 1364—Phone—Night 1400

Miss Bertha Helm will entertain the members of the Elite Club at her home Monday afternoon.

Among the guests at the dance in Glenwood last evening were Miss Gladys Hudson and Charles Brody of this city.

Miss Olive Traylor, formerly of this city, who is now teaching in Connersville took dinner with Miss Teco Holden of this city last evening.

A very pleasant card series was enjoyed this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Theodore Reed, when she entertained the members of the Saturday Afternoon Card Club.

The Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church will be entertained on Monday evening by the Misses Florence Gronier, Wanda Wyatt, and Laura Holden at the home of John Powers in North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lee will entertain at dinner this evening Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lee and daughter Miss Luna Lee. The occasion is in honor of the 60th birthday of the twin brothers, and of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. A.
Lee. It promises to be a very delightful affair.

A very pleasant time is anticipated tomorrow by the invited guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McCann, of Connersville, who will entertain with an all day party, including dinner and supper. Those invited from this city are Mrs. Sarah Giffin, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dill, Mrs. Emaline Tucker, Mrs. Margaret Brown, Mrs. Fannie Riedenhaugh, and Miss Emma Casady.

PITCH-IN SUPPER

Miss Frances Lyons was the pleasant hostess for the members of her Sunday School class of the Methodist church, when she entertained them with a pitch-in supper at her home Friday evening.
The table, beautifully decorated with cut flowers, was a pretty setting for the merry crowd. After the dinner, the guests enjoyed a theatre party.
The members of the class are the Misses Frances Lyons, Louise Hogsett, Margaret Mahin, Leona Rankin, Dorothy Moore and Ina Hinman.

THIMBLE CLUB

The members of the Thimble Club were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon when Mrs. James E.
Watson was the gracious hostess.
During the afternoon the merry hours were whiled away with needlework and social chat. At the close of the enjoyable gathering the guests were invited to the dining room, where the center of the table was embellished with a gorgeous potted plant. A delectable two-course luncheon was served.

T. O. G. CLUB

An unusually delightful meeting of the T. O. G. Club was the one this afternoon, the first after the holidays, at the home of Miss Margaret Ball. Several charming hours of merry chat were enjoyed and the guests added to the pleasure of the afternoon by several musical numbers. Near the close of the enjoyable afternoon, the pleasant hostess served a tasteful one course luncheon.

DINNER PARTY

The country home of Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Hall was the setting for a merry scene last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Hall were the cordial host and hostess at a delightful dinner party for several of their friends.
The home was made radiant with potted flowers, and the dining table was made beautiful with an artistic basket, in which were various varieties of fruit tastefully arranged. A delicious three course dinner was served. The evening was spent socially, and was made especially pleasant by the music furnished by Miss Mable McCracken, one of the guests.
A round of Rook was also enjoyed.
The guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Lowden, the Misses Florence Lower, Nellie Brannum, Leda Green, from Richland, Mable McCracken, of Shelbyville, and John Lower.

THOMPSON REUNION

The holiday colors of red and green, and a profusion of bells and garlands made a beautiful setting for the thirteenth annual family reunion, which was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Miller, southwest of the city, on New Year's day. The hospitable home was transformed into a bower of beauty for the festal occasion. White and red was the gay color scheme tastefully carried out in the dining room, where the jolly crowd gathered to partake of the sumptuous feast, served at noon.
The following guests were present:
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hungerford, Green, Joseph, and Melvin Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Dearing, Ever hear two women "fussin" over a baby, cutest, sweetest little thing that ever happened is their verdict. Most men like babies equally as well but, well they don't make as much fuss.

Tell you what we will do during the next two months. We are going to give each new baby we want to make the first pres-

Lots of Ginger

Among the Indianapolis newspaper
men who were present at the Republican love feast was George W.
Stout, the man who wrote the Progressive news after the 1912 unpleasantness. Mr. Stout is now the writer of the Indiana Daily Times
editorials, and his views will be interesting to many readers. regarding the love feast, under the title of "Republican Ginger," Mr. Stout
says:
"It is no wonder Indiana Republicans in the last two years have attracted nation-wide attention to their methods and to their unusual
achievements along organization
lines. It is not at all remarkable
that we hear from other states the suggestion, often repeated, that the Indiana state chairman, who has
brought about the Hoosier Republican rejuvenation ought to be the Republican national chairman for the crucial campaign of 1916. Will H.
Hays of Sullivan, the popular organization leader of Indiana, is being heralded abroad as a coming nation-
work and to the fact he has got results in Indiana against tremendous odds.

"Under the present Indiana Republican organization energetic efficiency, resourcefulness and applied
common sense have accomplished
spirit of the organization has been some very definite results. The extended to the precincts and as one effect it has been notably easy to organize Republican meetings of a size and noise exceedingly ominous
position. Republicans say that the
when viewed by the on-looking oper remarkable series of meetings culminating today in the annual statewide love feast in this city simply
goes to show that Indiana Republicans are to be reckoned with next year. While the meetings and love feast have shown Republicans to be
formidable in their rallying powers,
been little indication of overconfi-dence.

CHARGES DISMISSED

(By United Press.)
Denver, Jan. 8.—Indictments against President John White strike leader John Lawson and other officers of the United Mine workers, returned at Pueblo on December 1, 1913, in the early days of the Colorado strike, were dismissed today
by U. S. district attorney H. B.
Tedrow. The indictments alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Obsolete Trade Names.

Some obsolete names of trades survive as surnames—e. g., Webster, Lister, Walker. In the fourteenth century the weaver was known as "the webster," the dyer was "the lyster"
and the workman who trod the cloth
in the dye vat was "the walker." The arkwright made the arks or chests
in which clothes or meal were stored,
and the smith was frequently dubbed
"the faber," this later being one of
the rare cases in which the Latin
translation of a craft has become a common surname. When the cotteler had forged an edged tool the blomer finished it off or put the bloom on; the chapman traveled with goods from door to door and the coke baked cakes
and sold them.—London Tatler.

The Pace.

The rhinoceros surveyed the world
complacently. "After all, I set the pace in a manner of speaking,"
quoth he.

Whereat the other beasts burst out
laughing.

"Well, it's a fact," the rhinoceros insisted. "Tell me, please, where would
with hides like mine?"—Boston Journal.

Two Rivers.

One of the most sharply defined wa-
Minnesota-South Dakota boundary.
From Lake Traverse the Red River of
the North flows to the arctic, while
from Big Stone lake, immediately adjacent, the Minnesota river finds its way into the Mississippi.—Argonaut.

A Mean Retort.

Bertha—I'm sorry you asked me to marry you. It pains me to refuse.
Will (cheerfully)—Oh, don't worry!
Perhaps you know best what I'm escaping.

Trained.

Kaicker—A very obedient child.
Bocker—No wonder; his father is a traffic cop and his mother is a cook.—
New York Sun.

He has no hope who never had a fear.—William Cowper.

France is leading the other nations in taking preliminary steps to recover from the financial blight of the war. The northern area of France now in the enemy's possession is one of Europe's most important manufacturing centers. MASSACRE TALK WAS IN THE AIR

Last Days at Monastir Were Really Exciting Because Town Captured in Really Bulgarians.

Formerly Ruled Town With Iron Hand Bulgarians With Firearms Being Shot as Spies.

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Salonica, Greece, Dec. 16. (By Mail).—The last days at Monastir, before its fall, were indescribably exciting. Monastir is really Bulgarian. Talk of massacre was in the air. While the Bulgarian guns boomed within earshot of the town rumors of plans for a general massacre by the Bulgarians of the few remaining Serbian civilians filled the air. The few remaining Serbian civilians were going to massacre the Bulgarians. The Serbian soldiers were going to loot the town. Among the Bulgarians were hundreds of Bulgarian soldiers disguised as civilians, who at the last moment would mobilize in the town and ravage it. All these rumors found believers.

Nish, when the German-Austrian army entered Serbia, decorated with flags of the allies, believing the French and British would come dashing in on trains and stop the German tide. But the days went by and the flags were stained by the rains and became as limp and lifeless as the hopes of Nish for rescue. Nish finally fell to the Germans and the Bulgars with the bedraggled flags still hanging. The Serbian folk at Ushkub did the same. Ushkub fell with Nish.

Monastir had no such feeling. In Monastir, Bulgarian until 3 years ago, were plenty of folk who would have hung German, Austrian and Bulgarian flags except for the presence of a few Serbian soldiers who held Monastir with an iron hand. Through the nights before the Bulgarians came, they marched the streets in patrols of four. Serbian civilian volunteers stood at all important street corners with rifles. Bulgarians found with firearms were considered spies of traitors and shot. The few Serbs in the town were lords of authority as long as their little army of two regiments held Balhuna Pass, 40 miles north of Monastir.

On Friday, Nov. 12, we saw a strange procession pass through the streets. It was a little regiment of Serbian farmers with shovels. In their queer fur coats, woolen stockings and odd hats, they presented a most peculiar sight. Their long handled, diamond-shaped shovels took the places of bayonets. The long ragged line marched out of the town. Women and girls ran alongside, carrying baskets of food. A few miles out they stopped and began to dig trenches under the direction of Serbian officers.

This was the first sign that Monastir was in danger. To the north the little Serbian army was giving way against terrific odds. Sometime soon they would come falling back through the mountain passes and over the farms and hills to these trenches the farmers were digging and here make their last stand. The men with the shovels told Monastir the whole story.

That night in Monastir the guard was doubled. Civilians were ordered indoors. The rumble of hundreds of ox carts moving provisions from the town filled the night.

Saturday afternoon there was a noise like distant thunder. Guns! The faces on the streets told no stories; but you passed Monastirians who listened as to sweet music; you passed Serbs who listened with fear in their hearts.

There were no communiques. Only rumors, signs. Sunday was a bad day. The sound of guns was nearer. In the late afternoon wagons began carrying packages from the Russian, Italian and French consulates to the station. Thus was the story being told of what was happening north of the city. At five I went with a correspondent to army headquarters. We were received by Col. Niketich. He entered the room and shook our hands.

"What about our going to the front?" we asked him. "Gentlemen," he said "The situation is very grave. We have done our best but we're falling back. Only two regiments are left. They can hold Balhuna Pass until tonight. They will fall back and hold Perlepe two days, then fall back toward Monastir. They can hold Monastir three days. Gentlemen, we are ready to evacuate. We tried to sympathize with him. He wouldn't accept sympathy. He stood straight and proud. "It's war," he said simply, "and the Serbians have done the best they could." Then Col. Niketich put the censor's mark on our despatches and we started to say good-bye to him.

"But, gentlemen, what about yourselves? How will you leave the town?" We said we had hoped to go toward Perlepe. "Don't do that," said the Colonel. "You certainly would be caught by Bulgarian comitadjis. Let me warn you not to go on the roads outside the town. We said good-bye to him as if we were going to see him again. He said good-bye in the same spirit. In this rush of war you catch a glimpse of a fine man now and then; learn to know him and like him and then, he is gone.

All Monastir was at the railroad station in the morning for the last train to Salonica. The allied consuls were there with their families; Serbian families with pets in the arms of the children; kitchen or parlor fittings in the arms of distressed men and women.

The Bulgarians, closer than ever were making their cannon thunder. The sharp staccato of Serbian artillery was lessened, for Serbian ammunition was almost exhausted. On a road a few miles out of town a regiment came to a stop. The tired, almost exhausted soldiers sank to the earth. They were the first section of the retreating Serbs to reach the trenches on the hillside, made there purposely so that it would be impossible for the Serbian soldiers to retreat. "Fight it out to the last man and to the last breath," was the Serbian motto. With a few hours the trench fighting was under way, and the fall of Monastir was at hand.

CHURCH SURVEY OF STATE LIKELY

Rural Conditions in Indiana to be Examined by Church and Country Life Commission

Arrangements Discussed Recently at Conference Which Was Held in Columbus, Ohio.

Organized survey of rural church conditions in this state was in prospect today.

The movement probably will be started within a few months and completed in about a year, with the aid of a small army of volunteer workers, including churchmen and agriculturists. Present plans call for use of the survey as a basis for a future extensive campaign for church and country life improvement in the state. All work will be inter-denominational.

Word of the prospective church survey came today from headquarters of the Commission on Church and Country life at Columbus, O., and names of a number of men in this state who have the plans under consideration were made known. The arrangements were discussed at the national church and country life conference held recently in Columbus where President Wilson was one of the speakers. Delegates from this state held a special conference at that meeting to formulate tentative plans for a rural church survey, to be started as soon possible after their return.

Among the persons who are expected to be leaders in the movement are:

C. Rufener, Clay City; E. A. Hanley, Franklin; Frederick Greensburg; F. E. Lumley, Indianapolis; M. C. Pearson, Indianapolis; Luther E. Sellers, Indianapolis; G. I. Christie, Lafayette; Jno. P. Hale, Lafayette; Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith, Lafayette; C. B. Hershey, Merom; J. W. Street, Nashville; John M. Walker, New Albany; Rev. Esther Cook, New Castle; Enos Harvey, Noblesville; Walfred Lindstrom, Pleasant Lake; S. E. Nicholson, Richmond; Chas. E. Tebbett, Richmond; Rev. Harry Blunt, Indianapolis.

Similar surveys are contemplated in most other states. Working plans are to be modeled after those used during the past year in Ohio, where the first state-wide scientific inquiry into country church conditions ever made in the United States is now being completed by a state association working under the supervision of the Commission on Church and Country Life. This commission is a subsidiary body of the Federal Council of Churches, an inter-denominational organization of heads of churches in the United States.

Each of the hundreds of volunteer workers who would be employed in such a survey as that contemplated in this state would ascertain facts about country churches within the township or locality assigned to him, such as these, for example: Membership, Location, distance from another church, and nature of members (whether farm owners or tenants). These facts would be reported to a central office and assembled there.

The results shown then would be used as the basis for an educational campaign to make churches extend their functions to include some of these interests: Federation of several churches in each community good roads, public health, better farming with special stress on agricultural college extension work, co-operation among farmers for buying, selling and producing, consolidated schools, public recreation and establishment of social and recreational centers at churches. Country preachers are to be urged to educate themselves more thoroughly in the practical interests and needs of a community, without sacrificing purely religious work.

Among the results indicated by the incomplete rural church survey in Ohio are these: Eighty-three per cent of the churches have less than one hundred members and 21 per cent have less than 25. Only one in 16 has an individual preacher and a large proportion of preachers get about the same pay as a day laborer. Less than 40 per cent of the rural population are church members. Only one-third are increasing in membership and one church in nine has been abandoned in recent years. Headquarters for the national church betterment movement, which has among its promoters practical farmers as well as churchmen, are at 517 Commercial Building, Columbus, Ohio, in charge of Charles O. Gill.

A conviction in this case would go exceedingly hard on Eddie Wolter. It will be remembered that he was arrested three times last spring on "bootlegging" charges in police court and took an appeal to the circuit court. Wolter decided not to fight the charge in circuit court and entered a plea of guilty. He was fined the minimum under the law, which was $50 and thirty days. He served the thirty days and paid the fine.

When Judge Sparks gave him the minimum it was with the understanding that he would not again engage in the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. The penalty for a second offense is very severe and it is certain that Wolter will fight the charges to a finish. The arrests this morning were made by Sheriff Cavitt and Deputy Sheriff Sullivan.
